

Kongres Container

Large Energy Storage Vehicle Sales in Portugal

Overview

How many EV charging stations are there in Portugal?

By January 2025, Portugal's Mobi.E network encompassed more than 5,800 public charging stations, housing approximately 10,800 individual charging points. This rapid expansion has provided EV owners with a more dependable, accessible charging experience. (Source: Mobility Portal Europe) However, Portugal isn't stopping here.

What are the top electric cars in Portugal?

Other top brands included BMW (4,074), Volvo (3,203), Peugeot (3,017), and Mercedes-Benz (2,860). The Tesla Model Y and Model 3 led the rankings, followed by the Volvo EX30 and Peugeot e-208. Portugal's progress in electric mobility is supported by advancements in charging infrastructure and the integration of renewable energy:.

Are electric cars tax deductible in Portugal?

Buyers are exempt from registration tax and can deduct the VAT on their tax returns. However, early Associação Automóvel de Portugal (ACAP) sales numbers for 2024 show a potential significant slowdown. Share of battery electric vehicles (BEV) and plug-in hybrid electric vehicles (PHEV) sold as a percentage of all new vehicles sold.

Why should businesses invest in EVs in Portugal?

Portugal's commitment to electrification offers compelling evidence of both market demand and governmental success in promoting sustainable transport. For businesses, this represents a promising environment for expansion and investment in the EV ecosystem.

What are the trends in electric mobility in Portugal?

These trends highlight the increasing confidence of Portuguese consumers in electric mobility. BEVs: 41,741 units (+14.7% YoY). PHEVs: 28,346 units

(+4.5% YoY). Combined BEVs and PHEVs: 70,087 units, marking a 10.31% YoY increase.

How many EVs are being purchased in Portugal in 2025?

Predictive data indicates that the number of EVs purchased per year in Portugal will continue to rise strongly with 45,670 EVs being purchased during 2025; 51,770 during 2026; 58,810 in 2027 and 66,920 in 2028.

Large Energy Storage Vehicle Sales in Portugal

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://drugiswiatowykongrespolakow.pl>